WORK OF A CARRIE NATION CLUB

HURLED A CYCLONE OF BRICKS AT A NEW SALOON.

An Indiana Organization Undertook to Clear Out the Joints Like Mrs. Nation Did—They Smashed One and Nearly Beat the Proprietor to Death Because He Choked Their Leader.

Crawfordsville, Ind., Feb. 13—The ladies of Jacksonville, near this city, recently organized a Carrie Nation Club and passed resolutions advocating the methods of Mrs. Nation in her crusade against the saloons in Kansas. So wrought up become the league over the question that they called a special meeting last night and determined to wipe the three saloons in Jacksonville off the earth. Mrs. James Snyder, the president, addressed the ladies who numbered over a hundred. Mrs. Snyder made a stirring address and said if Mrs. Nation could smash the saloons of Kansas there was but one way to abolish them in Indiana, to take the same weapons used by Mrs. Nation and drive the saloons out by force.

Enthusiasm ran high and every hatchet, axe, club and brick in the neighborhood was speedily collected. With Mrs. Snyder in the lead the army advanced to the saloon of Dan Grimes, who had just opened a new place with all the modern improvements. Without a moment's notice half a hundred bricks were hurled against the glass front and before the astonished proprietor realized what had happened the front of the saloon looked as if a cyclone had struck it. The inmates scrambled through the rear door and meanwhile the women gained the inside. They demolished the large mirror and emptied all the bottles upon the floor. Faucets in whiskey barrels were turned open and the liquor and wines were soon flowing freely.

Grimes, recovering from his panic and realizing that his assailants were the newly organized Nation Club, rushed into the room and choked Mrs. Snyder almost into insensibility and dragged her from the place. Her army were quickly to the rescue, however, and with clubs and what bricks were left beat Grimes almost to death. A large crowd soon gathered upon the scene and a free-for-all fight ensued between the saloon element and the sympathizers of the women. One Ryan was knocked down and kicked insensible by the husband of Mrs. Snyder. Mrs. Stephen Garret was struck in the face by a thrown beer bottle and her head was badly smashed. In the meantime the women took to their heels and left the fight between the enraged combatants. The police were powerless and the fight lasted half an hour. The condition of Ryan is serious and he may not recover. Mrs. Snyder is also in a critical condition. The three saloons have closed and will not attempt to reopen till law and order are restored.

Jacksonville a is bad place and always borne a bad reputation for its lawlessness and wide open methods. The affair has created a sensation, as the people who belong to the Carrie Nation Club are the most prominent of the place. The citizens say if the saloons attempt to reopen they will be dynamited, if necessary in order to abolish them.

Warrants will be sworn out at once for the leaders and those mixed in the fight. A message from that town last night says quiet has been established, but the citizens have all taken a hand in the affair and any attempt upon the saloon's part will result in a pitched battle.

Two Townships Lost.

Clerk J. S. Nelson has received a tabulated report of the census from the department at Washington, asking him to make such corrections as are necessary in names names, etc. All the townships in the county made gains except two, Greene, which lost 29, and Jefferson, which lost 22. Sumner just held its own with a gain of one. All the others made good gians.

A London dispatch says that importers of dutiable merchandise, apparently in anticipation of an early introduction of the budget, are clearing enormous quantities of teas, spirits and tobacco.

Miss Trotter Entertains.

Miss Mary Trotter gave a party last night at her home on Ashe street complimentary to Miss Cora Earb, of Roanoke, Va., who is visiting in the city the guest of Miss Minnie Lee Smith. The rooms were prettily decorated in pink and presented a most pleasing appearance.

A "smelling contest" which consisted of trying to tell the contents of several vials by smelling them, created much merriment. Dr. John Wheeler and Miss Mamie Smith tied for the prize, a viniagrette, and it was awarded Miss Smith, the Doctor yielding in her favor. The booby was a real live onion, and was captured by Mrs. Reinicker.

Those present were, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Reinicker, F. C. Boyles and Miss Cora Earb, of Roanoke, Mr. S. N. Peters and Miss Minnie Lee Smith, Mr. James Rankin and Helen Wheeler and Dr. Jno. H. Wheeler.

HOUSE DISCUSSES IMP'CHMENT

TOOK A RECESS AT TWO UNTIL FOUR O'CLOCK.

Majority and Minority Reports Both Read, Followed by Conner's Resolution—Several Speakers on Each Side.

Special Dispatch to The Telegram.

Raleigh, Feb 14th.—Early this morning a resolution was introduced in the House instructing the Attorney General to bring suit against Ex-Treasurer Worth to recover $800, the amount paid Shell Fish Commissioner Theopholis White.

The impeachment resolution was taken up at 11 o'clock. The House was packed with spectators.

Ebbs, Republican, presented the minority report in opposition to impeachment.

Then the report of the sub-committee favoring impeachment, and a favorable report from the Judiciary Committee, were read, setting forth that there no grounds for impeachment or censure.

Judge Connor offered a substitute for the resolution. This substitute takes the position that in issuing the mandamus, the Court assumed authority and power not conferred by the constitution and laws.

Judge Allen offered a resolution that Judge Furches and Judge Douglas be impeached for high crimes and misdemeanors in office, and spoke in support of it.

Representative Stubbs opposed impeachment in a speach of an hour's length. The speech was very able and received loud applause.

Representative Graham then spoke in support of the committee's report.

At two o'clock the House took a recess until four o'clock.

The session of the Senate today was devoted almost entirely to the House bill to allow the Governor to defend State election officers indicted in Federal courts. The measure passed by a strict party vote.

The State Penitentiary.

The contract for the public printing is to be awarded by the Council of State, and the Attorney General and Commissioner of Labor and Printing.

This was the decision of the joint Democratic caucus last night, which met in the hall of the House at 8 p. m.

The Council of State with the two State officers are to have full authority to act and the only stipulation which is to be adhered to is that the rates for the contract shall not exceed those in the contract made with the public printers of 1899.

Senator Morrison was the author of the resolution that was adopted taking the matter out of the hands of the General Assembly. Senator Morrison is of the opinion that the State officers, having more time in which to consider the matter, can award the contract to better advantage, and that as a result the printing can be done more economically in this way. He believes that the contract can be let to better advantage by the State officers than by 170 members of the General Assembly.

The members of the Council of State are the Governor, Secretary of State, the Treasurer, Auditor and the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

HER VALENTINE.

One was the love of her early youth, juvenile, soft and meek;
Two was the love of her girlhood days, frivolous, light and weak;
Three was the love of her womanhood, love that had wined and dined,
But Four was the love with the gold, you know, a love of the proper kind.

A Big Rabbit Hunt.

A party composed of Col. T. S. Garland, of Huntington, West Va., Will McAdoo and Tom Lyon, left town last Monday for a big camping in the north-western portion of the county. Mr. Garland Daniel ran out to see them Tuesday and says they are having a big time.

They are expected home this afternoon with several hundred rabbits.

Showered With Rice.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Joe Howard, who were married in Durham Tuesday, returned to Greensboro last night. They were met at the station here by a crowd of friends and a shower of rice. Mr. and Mrs. Howard will make their future home at Pomona, Mr. Howard being connected with the Pomona Hill Nursery Company.

The governor of the province of Shen Si, China, is appealing for aid in behalf of 4,060,000 inhabitants of the famine-stricken districts.

Mr. Alley's Condition.

Mr. G. W. Alley, Sr., who has been critically ill at his home on Cedar street for some time is still lingering, though in an unconscious condition. He has been in a dying condition for the past twenty-four hours. It is not thought that he can live through the night.

EDWARD'S FIRST PARLIAMENT.

OPENED TODAY AMID A SCENE OF GREATEST SPLENDOR.

The King Makes a Speech in Which He Says the War in South Africa Should Early Close and that the Duke of Cornwall Shall Visit Australia and Canada.

By Wire to The Telegram.

London, Feb. 14.—Great crowds filled the streets and throngs surrounded the houses of Parliament, cheering the imposing mideaval display with which the King opened Parliament today.

When the King arrived at Westminster at 1:58 p. m., there was a remarkable scene in the house of Lords. The nobles wore gorgeous uniforms and the peeresses were attired in decollette dress. Precedence was thrown to the winds and there was a rush by the crowds for vantage that resembled the pit of a popular theatre.

The King delivered his speech, and alluded to the sorrow at the Queen's death. He said that in the grief it was a satisfaction to assure them that relations with other powers continued friendly. "The war in South Africa is not entirely terminated, but the capitals of the country and principal lines of communication are in my possession. Measures have been taken that will, I trust, deal effectually with the forces that still oppose. An early submission of the Boers is much to be desired in their own interest, as until this takes place it will be impossible to establish in those colonies the institutions which will secure the equal rights of all the white inhabitants and protection and justice to the native population." The negotiations at Pekin are proceeding in a manner which is in compliance with the conditions of the powers to be effected. An order will be given to effect the wishes of his mother who decided on a visit by the Duke of Cornwall and York to Australia and it shall be extended to New Zealand and Dominion of Canada.

New York Ice Blocked.

By Wire to The Telegram.

New York, Jan. 14.—The trouble of ice on the rivers and harbor continues. The ice from North river has packed Governors island, and several ferries in East river are unable to run, and have suspended their trips entirely. The Bridge in consequence became clogged with trucks. For the first time since the blizzard of 1898 persons walked across Gravesend bay on the ice. There is little navigation at Sandy Hook. The steamer Majestic came in coated with ice. Ferries on North river had to plough through the ice half way across the stream.

Lecture at Greensboro Female College.

Prof. Edwin Mims, professor of English in Trinity College at Durham, delivered a lecture before the student body of Greensboro Female College last night. His subject was The "Inspiration of True Culture."

The lecture was a privrte one, there being present only the students of the institution and the faculty.

Prof. Mims is an able man and his address was listened to last night with close attention.

Barber Shop Changes.

Mr. J. S. Furgerson who has been manager of W. & N. Barber shop in the Southern Loan and Trust Company building, has bought the shop fixtures of E. G. Newcomb and moved them into the Mendenhall building where he will run the "Court Square Barber Shop." Ed Williams and Wiley Moore, two capable colored barbers, have brought the W. & N. shop and will continve it in the S. L. & T. building.

A GREAT EXPOSITION

PAN-AMERICAN WILL USHER IN A NEW AND GREAT ERA.

Show Will Be the First Important Public Event of the Twentieth Century—Progress In the Western Hemisphere During a Century to Be Illustrated.

The achievements of the past century have been magnificent. The march of progress has been swift, and the triumphs of civilization have been manifold. The age of enlightenment is indeed here. Mankind has progressed in the culture of the finer side of existence and has turned to its uses the mysterious forces of the elements in a manner undreamed of but a few centuries ago.

Yet who can foretell what the Twentieth century has to unfold? Who would dare to predict what the achievements of another hundred years may be? Standing on the threshold of this era, we look into the past, and in the grand picture of progress to be presented in the beautiful buildings and comprehensive exhibits of the Pan-American Exposition we see a record in graphic form of what mankind has accomplished upon this hemisphere during the 100 years now completed.

With vision sharpened we look forward with prophetic eye into the mysteries of the future and get, in imagination at least, a glimpse of what the next century is to bring forth.

Can it be possible that the Twentieth century will see an advance in material and intellectual things as great relatively to that of other centuries as the Nineteenth century has witnessed? It scarcely seems within the bounds of possibility, and yet who can say whether even more wonderful discoveries and even more valuable applications of our present knowledge than the past century has given us do not await us in the one now just begun? The Nineteenth century saw the revolution in methods of travel on land and sea caused by the invention of the steam engine; it saw the invention of the telegraph and telephone and electric light; it witnessed the application of electric power to urban transportation methods and to the operation of the wheels of industry generally; it produced great improvements in the fields of medicine and surgery and of education; it gave us inventions in the way of machinery which have completely revolutionized industry and shortened the hours of labor for the manual workers of the civilized world and particularly of this hemisphere. To go on and enumerate in detail the features of Nineteenth century progress would require more space than is at my command. But it will not do to forget that great as this progress has been and proud as we have a right to be of it there are tremendous problems of a social and political character yet to be solved. Their settlement during the next century will do much to alleviate the misery yet existing in the world and render happier the millions who will be born, live and die during the next hundred years. It should not be forgotten that many branches of science are yet in their infancy. We have only begun to understand the mysterious force of electricity, and we have not yet succeeded in navigating the air. There are yet many worlds to be conquered by the daring, the inventive and the pioneers of human progress in the forthcoming century.

That the pulse of mankind will be quickened by the great Exposition of all the Americas so soon to be held there is no room for doubt.

No more appropriate time could be chosen for such an Exposition upon the American continent. No more appropriate place than Buffalo and the Niagara frontier could be selected, for it is at this spot, where the cataract of Niagara has been harnessed and science and industry have combined to concentrate all the energies and activities characteristic of the time, that the most fitting assemblage can be made of the things which portray most effectively this progress.

Never before in the history of expositions in either the New World or the Old has such remarkable work of a constructive character been done. Never before did six months show such a wonderful change in the appearance of tract of land as has been worked, without the aid of magic, in the 350 acres which comprise the site of the Pan-American Exposition.

Now that the principal buildings are practically constructed and the whole great enterprise has been thus far run on schedule time it can be seen that include the best of former exhibits and will in addition have novelties never before shown. The heavy ordnance will be mounted outside the Government building. This branch of the exhibit will include the 12 inch gun, with disappearing carriage, so arranged that neither the man nor the gun is exposed except during the moment of firing, the recoil throwing it into its original position. Then, too, there will be shown the 16 inch seacoast rifle manufactured at the Watervliet arsenal, the most powerful piece of ordnance ever constructed in the United States, having a maximum range of 20½ miles. It will be the greatest display of heavy ordnance ever made, yet this is only one of the numerous features of the Government Ordnance Exhibit for the Exposition.

Another exhibit of ordnance will be made by manufacturers, but in a different part of the grounds. It will be very large, as all the makers will naturally want to make as good a showing as possible. Here a considerable number of important inventions not yet accepted by any government, but which may figure conspicuously in the possible defenses of the future, will be shown. There will be great guns and small guns and guns of all kinds and their accessories at the Pan-American Exposition. To many visitors this will be one of the most attractive features of the big show. The study of weapons with which the great powers wage war is ever an interesting one, and the many wonderful discoveries and inventions in this line during the past few years have a tendency very naturally to accentuate the interest. That the fullest opportunity to satisfy curiosity in this direction will be given at this Exposition is assured.

NO RIGHT TO UGLINESS

The woman who is lovely cin face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at C. E Holton's drug store.

A powerful engine cannot be run with a weak boiler, and we can't keep up the strain of an active life with a weak stomach; neither can we stop the human machine to make repairs. If the stomach cannot digest enough food to keep the body strong, such a preparation as Kodol Dyspepsia Cure should be used. It digests what you eat and it simply can't help but do you good. THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 14

SELLING WARES TOO CHEAP.

The Statesville Landmark says:

A newspaper libel law which is considered just and fair to the newspapers and the public recently passed the Senate. The measure was drawn by Senator London, who is a lawyer as well as an editor and an eminently fair and conservative man. Now it is stated that the House committee having the bill under consideration will report it unfavorably and the Raleigh papers seem to think the bill will fall in the House. The newspapers are asking no special favors but they considered this measure fair and just to them and they demand its passage. A similar bill was killed in the last Legislature and if it falls in this the newspapers will, if they are true to themselves, hold those who are responsible for its failure individually responsible. So far as The Landmark is concerned it is willing to go on record right now. It will not support for office any man, no matter whose candidate he is, who shows that he has no use for newspapers except to get their help to boost him into office. We want no favors of the politicians but we will not give help to those who will not treat the press with common decency.

And The Telegram is willing to go go on record with its contemporary. But from another esteemed contemporary we clip the following:

And believing, as we do, that the best interests of North Carolina and the South generally depends upon the success of the true principles of Democracy, we will at all times support these principles and the nominees of the Democratic party, from president of our nation down to township constable.

Like the last paragraph quoted, we believe that Democratic principles must be the salvation of the country, but we are not going to support from "president to constable" every little jay that happens to be parading in Democratic garments without regard to the genuiness of the garment or the character and acts of the wearer. The willingness of the press, to whom the people look for information and guidance, to do this, will continue to result, as it has in the past, in the small jays expecting as a matter of ancient right that the press will bow its knee to them. Such blind following of politicians and demagogues is just what these gentry want, and nothing can please them better than unequivocal and iron clad promises to support from "president to constable." For such promises what do they give in turn, either to the profit of the press or the public good? The confiding and promising press sells it wares too cheap. Like the Landmark we are willing to qualify our promise some. The situation is thus summed up by The Newbern Journal:

The press of the State is accredited as being very wise and patriotic, so long as it is helping others. When it seeks anything for itself, like the libel bill, with which it has sought Legislature after Legislature to get it passed, then the press needs a guardian, it does not know its own mind, and to grant it any legislation would prove a bad precedent.

The Senate Committee on Propositions and Grievances last night decided to report favorably on the bill to establish a dispensary at Tarboro. The movement for a dispensary in Charlotte has been started vigorously again, led by numbers of influential men of that city. It appears that those who thought the dispensary idea dead in North Carolina were mistaken.

Ex-Governor Jarvis writes a letter to the News and Observer opposing the impeachment proceedings. Even some folks in "the east" can see what a mistake it is.

The Norfolk Virginian-Pilot quotes the following lines from Edwin Markham's "The Passing of Victoria," and says that it is equal to good bits from Shelly and Tennyson:

"When London, in far centuries, shall be
As still as Babylon and both a dream—
When London's dead shall be some poet's theme—
When all her tombs and towers shall be a flight
Of ghostly arches in the noiseless night."

We have a weakness of our own for Mr. Markham's verse, notwithstanding Mr. C. P. Huntington offered a price to some one who would refute his ideas. And we think the above is good, but in this case Mr. Markham has certainly filched his verse from a certain bit of Lord McCauley's prose.

A special to The Telegram yesterday reported the fact that Representative Whitaker, of this county, had introduced a bill which makes it possible for any community which desire to do so, to vote compulsory education upon itself. The Telegram is a sincere and firm believer in compulsory education, but it is of the opinion that this Legislature cannot wisely adopt a general compulsory law, even if it desired to, which it does not. Something like Mr. Whitaker's bill is a good thing. The next Legislature will be the one to take up this question. The duty of this one is to organize the school system and appropriate $300,000 toward carrying out the plans.

Mr. J. J. Farriss, editor of the High Point Enterprise, is preparing to publish "The Southern Furniture Journal." It will be devoted to the furniture, wood, and iron business of the South, and especially High Point. So far it has received the undivided support of the factories at High Point and of many of the supply dealers, North and West, and deserves a bright future.

Smallpox Patient Doing Well.

Raleigh Post.

The Post is glad to announce to the many friends and patrons of the Baptist Female University throughout the State that the smallpox patient, Miss Highsmith, is up and doing well, and there is no indication that another single case will develop in the institution.

A member of the Morning Post staff called on President R. T. Vann last night and was given the following official statement of the situation:

"The patient, Miss Highsmith, is up and doing well, and no new cases have developed. Her room is closely quarantined and she is being nursed by a young lady who is an immune.

"The young ladies who roomed with Miss Highsmith are under separate and strict quarantine, and are feeling no signs whatever of possible contagion. Every student and, in fact, every person about the premises has been vaccinated.

"There is every indication that the disease is under complete control. The work of the University, recitations, etc., is proceeding as usual, and there is no fright among the young ladies."

ECZEMA'S ITCH IS TORTURE.

Eczema is caused by an acid humor in the blood coming in contact with the skin and producing great redness and inflammation; little pustular eruptions form and discharge a thin, sticky fluid, which dries and scales off; sometimes the skin is hard, dry and fissured. Eczema in any form is a tormenting, stubborn disease, and the itching and burning at times are almost unbearable; the acid burning humor seems to ooze out and set the skin on fire. Salves, washes nor other external applications do any real good, for as long as the poison remains in the blood it will keep the skin irritated.

BAD FORM OF TETTER.

"For three years I had Tetter on my hands, which caused them to swell to twice their natural size. Part of the time the disease was in the form of running sores, very painful, and causing me much discomfort. Four doctors said the Tetter had progressed too far to be cured, and they could do nothing for me. I took only three bottles of S. S. S. and was completely cured. This was fifteen years ago, and I have never since seen any sign of my old trouble."—MRS. L. B. JACKSON, 1414 McGee St., Kansas City, Mo.

S. S. S. neutralizes this acid poison, cools the blood and restores it to a healthy, natural state, and the rough, unhealthy skin becomes soft, smooth and clear.

SSS cures Tetter, Erysipelas, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum and all skin diseases due to a poisoned condition of the blood. Send for our book and write us about your case. Our physicians have made these diseases a life study, and can help you by their advice; we make no charge for this service. All correspondence is conducted in strictest confidence.

RED IN THE BLOOD

is the sign of life, of vital force, of the force that life has, of the force that life is.

When the red is lacking, life is weak, the spirits are weak, the body is weak.

Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil puts red in the blood and life in the body.

It's the food you can turn into muscle and bone and nerve. It gives you the mastery over your usual food—you want that. What is life worth if you've got to keep dosing yourself as an invalid?

Red in the blood! get red in the blood!

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

WINE OF CARDUI

WOMEN WHO WORK.

ST. LOUIS, MO., Aug. 12.

Though only 19 years old, I suffered from pains and female troubles two years. Last spring I got so bad I had to quit work. I had to support myself, and could not afford a high-priced doctor. I got one bottle of Wine of Cardui and that made me feel better. Have now used several bottles and am well. My mother used the Wine for Change of Life and was greatly relieved.

MISS MARGARET WALSH.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

Many girls and women find it necessary to earn their own living in various kinds of employment. Their work is often so hard and confining that the health breaks down. Their delicate constitutions are unfitted for tiresome tasks. Weakness nearly always makes its appearance in the peculiarly delicate womanly organs. Constant standing on the feet, and coming and going at the beck of a superintendent or foreman, induces falling of the womb, leucorrhœa, headache and backache. The pay of women workers is often so notoriously small that when sickness comes they have no money to engage skillful physicians. To them Wine of Cardui is truly a blessing. It cures them of their ills at a small cost, and they can act as their own physicians. No doctor can do as much for "female troubles" as Wine of Cardui.

HIS LIFE WAS SAVED.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deiverance from death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with typhoid fever that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldh't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvellous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all throat and lung trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug

Virtuous Sam and the Rooster.

Washington Post.

"Chicken stealing is as natural to a Tar Heel negro as snuff-rubbing is to a poor white in the mountains of Tennessee," said Mr. Frank Van Hanning, of North Carolina, at the Shoreham last night. "The negro simply cannot help but steal a chicken when the opportunity offers. The ingenuity of the defense they make when caught, however, goes a long way sometimes to mitigate their offense. The story of how Sam Johnston, a notorious chicken thief in the neighborhood where I live, escaped the consequences of one particular larceny is well worth repeating. Johnston's salvation lay in the fact that the chicken he had stolen was the property of another negro, a very prosperous farmer, but who, nevertheless had all the superstition of his race. Sam was caught redhand in possession of a fine rooster belonging to the negro farmer, and he was arrested and hauled before a justice of the peace for trial. His defense that the rooster he had filched was a 'hoodoo,' which had designs on the farmer's family, and that out of pure philanthropy he had taken the fowl and was in the act of carrying it to a solitary place in the woods where a white owl would sit in judgment and order the execution of the 'hoodoo.' The story wouldn't go with the court, of course, but the prosecuting witness became terror-stricken and refused to appear against Sam, and moreover, he begged Sam to take the rooster and carry out the original programme. Sam seemed reluctant, but when the farmer pleaded with tears in his eyes, he finally gave a grudging consent and departed with the 'witch' rooster in a bag. I should have liked to look in on the feast which took place that night in the humble cabin of the virtuous Sam."

Correspondence of The Telegram.

Chapel Hill, Feb. 12.—John Marshall Day, February 4th, was fittingly observed by the University. In the evening Judge Jas. C. McRae delivered an address suitable to the occasion.

The Executive Committee at a meeting held in Raleigh February 5th, incorporated the school of Medicine and Pharmacy as full departments in the University.

A committee from the trustees with President Venable and Professor Gore are engaged in making a map of the buildings with a view to putting in the new heating plant for the whole University.

On Thursday evening there was a concert in Gerrard Hall, given by a Tyrolean troupe. It was very much enjoyed by the students and town people.

It is interesting to note the comparative cost to the State of the education of each student in this and in other Southern State Universities. For North Carolina the cost is $48.82, while for other Southern States it ranges from $64.57 in Georgia to $254 in Louisiana.

Faith Caused Him to Murder Wife and Babies.

Pekin, Ill., Dispatch.

Samuel Moser, self-confessed murderer of his wife and three little boys, will be called upon to defend himself in the Circuit Court of Tazewell county, this city, next week. He alleges that the persecutions of the Amish church, from which he was expelled, caused him to commit the deed. He said today:

"They are going to hang me and no one will help me. My father is rich among men but he will not give me one cent to save my neck. I killed my wife and babies because I wanted to see them better off. My people wouldn't let me love them, so why should they live?"

Because Moser fondled his child in church he was sternly reproved by his pastor. When he insisted on showing his wife and little ones the affection of a husband and father, he was banished from the church. The life-long friendship of his companions and neighbors was denied him. He was ostracized by his family. He became an outcast. Up to within a few days ago there was no prospect of Moser's being able to retain an attorney for his defence, but he has given a bill of sale to his father for all his personal property and this was sold and the proceeds used in retaining T. N. Green of Pekin, to defend him. Insanity will undoubtedly be the plea.

The church has forbidden his father, Benedict Moser of Morton, Ill., reputed to be worth $100,000, to aid his son with money or counsel and he has decided to obey their mandate.

Prof. W. E. B. Dubois, of the Atlanta University, yesterday gave the industrial commission his views of the condition of the colored race in Doughtery county, Ga. He said that the colored people now own about 15,000 acres of land there, which is more than they have ever held before.

For the weakness and prostration following grippe there is nothing so prompt and effective as One Minute Cough Cure. This preparation is highly endorsed as an unfailing remedy for all throat and lung troubles and its early use prevents consumption. It was made to cure quickly.

A WORD OF WARNING

When you buy a piano or organ you want a musical instrument do you not? Then beware of those cheap pianos and organs so extensively advertised. Use your own common sense. If a cheap watch could keep accurate time, there would be no demand for the full jeweled and adjusted movement. If a thirty dollar organ or a $150 piano could be constructed so as to give musical satisfaction and durability instead of being a source of discontent and annoyance, there would be no demand for a more artistic instrument.

Kimball Pianos and Organs are sold direct from their large factories at small factory profit. They are fully guaranteed. We shall be glad hear from any one desiring a strictly first-class instrument.

Beneath the Surface

By Frank T. Bullen.

"WHAT I'm goin' ter tell ye happened — lemme see—wall, I doan-no—mebbe two, mebbe four er five year sence. I wuz mate of a pearlin' schooner b'longin' ter Sevuka, lyin' daouwn to Rotumah. Ware we'd ben workin' the reef wuz middlin' deep—deep 'nuff ter make eour b'ys fall on deck when they come up with a load, 'n' lie there like dead uns fer 'bout ten minnits befo' they k'd move ag'in. 'Twuz slaughterin' divin'; but the shell wuz thick 'n' no mistake; 'n' eour ole man wuz a hustler—s'long's he got shell he didn't vally a few dern Kanakers peggin' eout neow 'n' then. We'd alost three with sharks, 'n' ef 'twan't thet th' b'ys wuz more skeered of old Hardhead than they wuz of anythin' else I doan reckon we sh'd a-got any more stuff thet trip 't all. But 'z he warn't the kind er blossom to play any games on, they kep' at it, 'n' we 'uz fillin' up fast. The land wuz 'bout ten miles off, 'n' they wuz 'bout fifty, er mebbe sixty fathom water b'tween the reef we wuz fishin' on 'n' the nearest p'int. Wall, 'long 'bout eight bells in the afternoon I uz a-standin' by the galley door watchin' a Kanaker crawlin' inboard very slow' bein' most done up. Five er six ov 'em uz hangin' roun' 'bout ter start below agen, 'n' th' ole man uz a-blarsfemin' gashly at 'em fer bein' so slow. Right in the middle ov his sermont I seed 'im go green in the face, 'n' make a step from the rail, with both hans helt up in front ov 'im' 's if he wuz skeered 'most ter de'th. 'N' he wuz, too. There cum lickin' inboard after him a long gray slitherin' thing like a snake 'ith no head, but a lot uv saucers stuck onto it bottom up. 'N' befo' I'd time ter move, bein' most sort er paralyzed, several more of the dern things wus a-sleakin' around all over the deck. The fust one got the skipper good 'n' tight 'ith a round turn above his arms, 'n I saw him a-slidin' away. The schooner wuz a-rollin' 's if in a big swell—which ther warn't a sign of, 's I c'd see. But them snaky things went quicker 'n' thinkin' all over her, 'n' befo' yew c'd say 'knife' every galoot, includin' me, wuz a-goin' 'long with 'em back to where they'd come from.

"Say, d'yew ever wake up all alive, 'cep' yew couldn' move ner speak, only know all wuz goin' on, 'n' do the pow'fiest thinkin' 'bout things yew ever did in yer life? Yes, 'n' that's haow I wuz then. When thet cold gristly sarpint cum coddlin' roun' me, 'n' the saucers got to me 's if they'd suck out me very bowls, I'd a-g'in Mount Morgan ter died; but I couldn't ev'n go mad. I saw the head ov the Thing them arms b'longed ter, 'n' 'twuz wuss 'n the horrors, cause I wuz sane 'n' cool 'n' c'llected. The eyes wuz black 'n' a foot or more across 'n when I looked into 'em I seed meself a-comin'."

He was silent for a minute, but shaking as if with palsy. I laid my hand on his arm, not knowin' what to say, and he looked up wistfully, sayin: "Thenks, shimate; thet's good." Then he went on again:

"The whole Thing went back'ards takin' us along; 'n' I remember thinkin' ez we went of the other Kanakers below that hedn't come back. I he'rd the bubbles 's each of us left the sunshine but never a cry, never another soun'. The las' thing I remember seein' 'bove me wuz th' eend of the schooner's mainboom, which wuz guyed out to, larberd some, 'n' looked like a big arm struck stiff an' helpless, though wishful to save. Down I went, that clingin' snaky coil 'round me tighter 'n my skin. But wut wuz strangest ter me wuz the fact that not only I didn't drown, but I felt no sort er disconvenience frum being below the water. 'N' at last, when I reached the coral, though I dessay I looked corpse enough, 'twuz only my looks, fur I felt, lackin' my not bein' able ter move, breathe, er speak, ez peart 'n' fresh ez I do naow. The clutch that hed ben squeezin' me so all-fired tight begun to slack, 'n' I felt more comf'ble; 'n' ef 't 'adn't ben for the reck'llection uv them eyes 'n' that berryin'-ground' ov a mouth, I doan'no but wut I might ha' been a'most happy. But I lay thar, with the rest uv my late shipmates, sort er ready for consumpshun, like the flies in the corner of a spider's web; 'n' thet guv me a pow'ful heap ov a bad time.

"After awhile the quiet of the place begun ter breed strange noshuns in my he'd—jest like 's if I wuz dreamin', though wide awake 'z ever I wuz in all my life. I jest 'peared to be 'way back at the beginnin' uv things, befo' they wuz anythin' else but water, 'n' wut life there wuz in them early days hed ter dew 'ithout air er sun er light. I'd read the Bible some—not ter say frequent, 'n', bein' but a poor skollar, Jennersez wuz 'bout 's fur 's I got. But onct a Blue-nose I wuz shipmates with wuz pow'ful fond uv one er the Bible yarns he called the Book uv Jobe, 'n' he use' ter read thet off ter me 'twell I nearly got it through my he'd solid. Anyway, much ov it kem back ter me neow—bits 'bout the foundayshons ov the world, 'n' the boun's ov the sea, 'n' such like.

"'N' all the time overright me in the mouth ov a gre't cave, with them res'less thutty-foot feelers ever a-twistin' 'n' wrigglin' aroun', wuz the Thing itself, them awful eyes just a-showin' like moons made ov polished jet, in the dimness. Some ov my shipmates wuz gone, the skipper among 'em; but some, like me, wuz layin' quiet 'n' straight; while all about us the fish ov every shape 'n' size wuz a-glidin' slow 'n' stealthy like.

"It seemed so long I laid thar thet I felt able to remember every bush 'n' bough ov coral, every bowlder, that in queerest shapes yew ever see lay scattered aroun'. At last, never havin' quite lost sight of thet horrible, ungodly Thing in the cave yander, I see It kem eout. I never knowed thar wuz a God till then. Sence thet time, whenever I hear some mouthy critter provin', ez he calls it, poor child, thet ther ain't, 'n' can't be, any God, I feel thet sorry fer him I c'd jest sail right in 'n' lam' the foggy blether out'n his foolskull. But, ez I wuz a-sayin', eout kem the Thing, till I see the hull gr'et carcass ov It, bigger 'n the biggest sparm whale I ever see, just a-haulin' 'n' a-warpin' along by them wanderin' arms over the hills 'n' hallers ov the reef to'rds me. It floated between me 'n' wut light ther wuz, which wuz suthin' ter be thankful fer, fer I'd a-gi'n my life ter be able to shet my eyes from it 'n' wut wuz comin'. It hung over me, 'n' I felt the clingin' suckers closin' all aroun' me, when all of a sudden they left me ag'in. The gre't black shadder moved ter one side 'n' daown through that clear water cum a sparm whale, graceful 'n' easy 's an albacore. I never thought much of old squar'head's looks before, but, I'm telling' ye, then he looked like a shore-'nough angel 'longside thet frightful, crawlin', clammy sea-sarpient.

"But I hedn't much time ter reflect, fer thet whale had come on bizness, 'n' ther' wa'n't any percastination 'bout him. When he got putty close up to the Thing that wuz backin' uneasily away, he sorter rounded to like a boat comin' 'longside, only 'sted ov comin' roun' he come over clar he'd over flukes. His jaw wuz hangin' daown baout twenty foot with all the big teeth a-shinin', 'n' next I knew he'd got thet goldurned Thing in his mouth with a grip right behin' them awful eyes. Roun' come the tangle of arms like the sails of the windmill lacin', clutchin', tearin' at the whale's head. But they might so well have hugged the Solander Rock. It made no sorter diffrunce ter him, 'n' his jaw kep' on workin' fer all it wuz worth a-sawin' off the tremenjus he'd of the Thing. Then the light went eout. My gosh! thet water wuz jest turned inter ink, 'n' though yew c'd feel the sway 'n' swirl ov thet gre't struggle like the screw race ov some big liner they wa'n't nothin' ter be seen. So I reckon the Thing I'd been puzzlin' ter fine a name fer wuz jest the Gre't Mogul ov all the cuttlefish.

"Wall, I wuz sorter int'rested in this mush 'n' very much wanted ter see it through, but thet satisfacshun wuz denied me. All the churnin' 'n' thrashin' went on jest above me in pitch-dark 'n' grave-quiet. Bimeby the water ceased to bile aroun' 'n' got clearer, till after awhile I c'd see gre't shadders above movin' swiffly. The sea took on anuther color quite fermiliar ter me, sorter yaller, a-mixin' ov red 'n' blue. Funniest thing wuz the carm way I wuz a-takin' ov it all jest like a man lookin' out'n a b'loon at a big fight, er a spectayter in a g'lanty show hevin' no pusnal concern in the matter 't all. Presently sneakin' along comes a white streak cluss ter me. Long befo' it touched me I knew it fer wut it wuz. 'n' then I wuz in de'dly fear less the hope uv life after all sh'd rouse me eout uv this yer trance or whatever it wuz. 'Twuz a whale-line from some whaleship's boat a-fishin' overhe'd. It kem right to me. It teched me, 'n' I felt 's if I must come to 'n' die right there 'n' then. But it swep' right under me, 'n' then settled daown, coil after coil, till I wuz fair snarled up in it. By this time the water'd got so soupy thet I couldn't see nothin', but 'twa'n't long befo' I felt myself a-risin,—eout uv the belly uv hell, ez Jonah sez.

"Up I kem at a good lick till all uv a sudden I sees God's light, smell's His air, 'n' hears voices uv men. Gosh, but wa'n't they gallied when they see me. Blame ef I didn't think they'd lemme go ag'in. The fust one ter git his brains ter work wuz the bow oarsman, a nigger, who leaned over the gunnel, his face greeny gray with fright, 'n' grabbed me by the hair. Thet roused the rest, 'n' I wuz hauled in like a whiz.

"It didn't seem ter strike any ov 'em that I moutn't be so dead after all, though fortnitly fer me they concloodded ter take me aboard with 'em. So I laid thar in the bottom uv the boat while they finished haulin' line. Ther wuz a clumsy feller among 'em thet made a slip, hittin' me an ugly welt on the nose as he wuz fallin'. Nobody took any notice till presently one uv 'em hollers: 'Why, dog my cats ef that corpse ain't got a nose-blood.' This startled 'em all, fer I never met a galoot so loony ez ter think a de'd man c'd bleed. Howe'ever they jist lit eout fer the ship like sixty 'n' h'isted me aboard. 'Twuz er long time befo' they got my works a-tickin' ag'in, but they done it at last, 'n' once more I wuz a livin man among livin' men."—Cornhill Magazine.

The claim of other cough medicines to be as good as Chamberlain's are effectually set at rest in the following testimonial of Mr. C. D. Glass, an employe of Bartlett & Dennis Co., Gardiner, Me. He says: 'I had kept adding to a cold and cough in the winter of 1897, trying every cough medicine I heard of without permanent help, until one day I was in the store of Mr. Houlehan and he advised me to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and offered to pay back my money if I was not cured. My lungs and bronchial tubes were very sore at this time, but I was completely cured by this remedy, and have since always turned to it when I got a cold, and soon find relief. I also recommend it to my friends and am glad to say it is the best of all cough medicines.'' For sale by C. E Holton.

RHEUMATISM—CATARRH—DISEASES CURED BY B. B. B.

It is the deep-seated, obstinate cases of catarrh and rheumatism that B. B B. (Botanic Blood Balm) cures. It matters not what other treatments doctors, sprays, liniments, medicated air, blood purifiers, have failed to do, B. B. B. always promptly reaches the real cause and roots out and drives from the bones, joints, mucuous membrane, and entire system the specific poison in the blood that causes rheumatism and catarrh. B. B. B. is the only remedy strong enough to do this and cure ond so there can never be a return to the symptoms. Don't give up hope, but try B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) or 3 Bs.

For sale by druggists and Howard Gardner, in Greensboro, at $I per large bottle, or 6 large bottles (full treatment) $5. To prove our faith in B. B. B. we will send a trial bottle free to sufferers, so they may test the remedy at our expense. Address Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga.

AN ANCIENT BELIEF.

The ancients believed that rheumatism was the work of a demon within a man. Any one who has had an attack of siatic or inflammatory rheumatism will agree that the affliction is demoniac enough to warrant the belief. It has never been claimed that Chamberlain's Pain Balm would cast out demons, but it will cure rheumatism, and hundreds bear testimony to the truth of this statement. One application relieves the pain, and this quick relief which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. For sale by C. E. Holton, Druggist.

Field Marshal Count Von Waldersee, telegraphing from Pekin, says the Japanese have given their assent to handing over the Pekin-Shan Hai Kuan Railroad to the British.

The commissary general of the army has recently bought, for the special use of our soldiers, large numbers of little cookers of a kind newly invented. Each of them is hardly bigger than a teacup, so that the contrivance has the merit of being easily portable, while possessing the additional advantages of extreme simplicity and cheapness. With a single twist one unscrews from it a metal rim, and this, having three legs, is made to serve as a tripod-stand for holding a brass receptacle from which the cover is removed with another twist, says the Saturday Evening Post.

The receptacle, which is nothing but a small cylindrical cup, is partly filled with a whitish-looking substance that has the appearance of spermaceti. One is informed, however, that the stuff is in reality a mixture of wood alcohol and "some vegetable material," the nature of which is not explained. On being touched with a match it catches fire instantly and burns with a steady, lambent flame, which, though almost invisible to the eye, is extremely hot.

Now, the small quantity of alcohol mixture in the cup—it is quite solid—will burn for an hour and a half, and the cost of it is almost nothing. It will serve to heat water, or for any purpose of minor cookery, a saucepan or light pot being placed upon the tripod. When the fuel-mixture is used up, a fresh supply is scooped out of a pint can with a spoon and put into the brass cup, so that culinary operations may proceed. In a region where fuel is scarce—as in China, for example, or in parts of the west—such a contrivance is invaluable. It is likely to be adopted by sportsmen for use in camp.

The navy has purchased a quantity of these impromptu cookers, and is furnishing them by way of experiment to some of the ships.

As a means of heating shaving-water, under conditions where the ordinary conveniences are not at hand, the contrivance described is specially available.

The experience of the patent office with its "hall of models" throws an interesting light upon the progress of American invention. For many years the government required an applicant for a patent to submit a model of his invention. If the invention were a machine, none of the three dimensions of the model was to exceed 12 inches. The models were displayed in show-cases on the upper floor. This extensive collection of little engines, pumps and mowing machines came to look somewhat like a toy shop, and to it hundreds of visitors were attracted, says Youth's Companion.

But so long ago as 1880 it became evident that the practice of receiving models must be discontinued. The space they occupied was needed by the office for its regular business. So the models then on hand were sorted over, and the most interesting ones were retained, appropriately grouped, as a patent office museum. They have since been frequently sent, as a part of the government's exhibit, to great fairs like that at Chicago in 1893.

The rest of the models are now kept on two floors of a large storehouse near the post office, which have been rented for that purpose. The few visitors who chance to stroll through that wilderness of showcases are reminded of the diverse channels in which American inventiveness has sought an outlet.

It is a singular fact that, to understand a machine, the patent office examiners prefer a mechanical drawing to an actual model, so trained have they become in translating the conventional marks of a diagram into the physical reality for which it stands.
